

Master of Public Affairs and Politics (M.P.A.P.) - 30 Credits

Core Curriculum (12 Credits)- REQUIRED
Number	Course description	Semester notes
833:510	Public Policy Formation:	Fall or Spring;
	This course delves into the policy-making process and how	Recommended
	new ideas are ultimately generated into workable public	1 st semester policies. The course covers the major and secondary institutions that are responsible for the creation of public policy.
833:530	Research Design:	Fall only;
	The goal of this course is to teach you to design and critique	Recommended
	research so you can solve problems and make informed	1 st year decisions as future public servants. The course covers data collection, quantitative and qualitative designs, and internal 000 504	and external validity of designs.
833:521	Basic Quantitative Methods (or place-out exam	Fall or Spring;
	and alternative methods course):	Recommended
	The purpose of this course is to develop skills in statistical	1 st semester analysis. Particular focus will be on applied descriptive and inferential statistics, including cross- tabulations and correlation and regression analysis.
833:543	Economics for Public Policy:	Spring only;
033.543	This course applies microeconomic reasoning to public	Recommended
	issues, policies, and programs.	1 st year
l		L year

Policy Electives (18 Credits)

MPAP students must complete 9 elective courses related to the field of public policy. These courses may be related to methods, skills, or substantive policy areas. Courses outside of the Bloustein School may be taken with advisor approval.